Leiboroughgh Hoard Appeal

This incredible hoard of over 5200 Anglo-Saxon silver coins, around 1000 years old, is one of the most significant finds from Bucks for many years. Once it has been formally declared Treasure, the County Museum will have the opportunity to acquire it, but it won't be free. The final value has not yet been decided, but it is likely to be substantial. Although we will be able to apply for much of the cost as grants, we will still need to raise a significant amount locally.

We hope that you are able to help us raise this money. Even a small amount would be a great help, as the more people who show they care about Bucks heritage, the more the grant funders are likely to support us.

Please return pledges by post or in person to: County museum, Church Street, Aylesbury, HP20 2QP,
